

A Golden Age of Cave Exploration & Science

Celebrating 50 years of British Cave Exploration and Science at Home and Abroad

Where: Royal Geographical Society, London

When: 1st - 4th December 2017

What: A multitude of British cavers, past, present and future, presenting talks throughout the weekend. All day bar and café onsite.

Book online now at:

www.tinyurl.com/ybos7tue

Friday 1st December 2017 19:00 - 22:00

£10

Frank Pearson	UK caves
Dick Willis	British International Caving
Howard Limbert	Vietnam
Gina Moseley	British cave science

Sat 2nd & Sun 3rd December All Day

£5/day

An outstanding collection of 15-20 minute lectures covering British exploration at home and abroad, cave science, photography and media.

Including spectacular guest lectures by British born cavers, including Hazel Barton and her extra-terrestrial cave bacteria!!!

Monday 4th December Evening

Royal Geographical Society Fellows Lecture
Tony Waltham, Tim Atkinson, Hazel Barton
Limited availability

Organised on behalf of the BCA and hosted by Andy Eavis

Pre booking is strongly recommended